NO DAMN GOOD REPLACING YOUR TYRES

Your tyres are your only points of contact with the road. Maintaining that contact is a shock absorber's primary function and arguably the most important factor in vehicle control.

The truth is, no matter how good your tyres or brakes are, worn shock absorbers are as dangerous as worn tyres, and frequently the most overlooked safety critical part of vehicle maintenance.

Be Safe. Be Sure.

Gabriel in no way discourages the replacement of worn tyres and recognises that the replacement of all safety critical parts is crucial in reducing road accidents.
